

2019 MADE Internship Program

Marketing and Advertising Education (MADE) Internship Application Now Available!

The MADE internship is a development program for students interested in becoming the future leaders of the marketing and advertising industry. Founded by the ANA Educational Foundation, the MADE internship places them in a summer intern program at one of more than 50 marketing, advertising, or media companies. Participants include MasterCard, IBM, Sephora, McCann, mcgarrybowen, and Ogilvy. Positioned as the “common app” for summer internships, this paid program is designed to provide students with the skills, the mentors, and the training that will help them thrive in the industry.

Marketing and Advertising Education (MADE) Internship Program

"This experience provided me with the chance to go out of my comfort zone as a computer science major and allowed me to amass a large amount of necessary guidance and experience. Due to this revelation, I have been inspired to continue within the world of business and marketing and your efforts were instrumental in this decision."

"I'd like to put in writing that it's been amazing working with everyone this summer. You've all contributed immensely to my career and making my goals a reality...truly an invaluable thing. Please keep me in mind as a friend of the AEF. I'd love to pay it forward any way I can – now or in the future."
