An overview of some basic demographic methods such as the life table and age-standardized rates, followed by consideration of the core topics in economic demography: fertility, mortality, and migration, along with their connections to the economy and economic development. Course will be largely based on reading and discussion of journal articles.

Prerequisites: Introductory econometrics and Intermediate Microeconomics