If hired, can a research assistant attend Yale classes?

Yes, research assistants can either audit courses (with permission of the course instructor), or take a class for credit (for a fee). In fact, it is highly encouraged that research assistants do so. Additional information about auditing a course can be found on this Yale Handbook page.

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/if-hired-can-research-assistant-attend-yale-classes