The Economic Analysis of Conflict

Subject Code (deprecated): ECON
Course Number: 449
Section Number: 01
Description:
Introduction to the microeconomic analysis of internal conflict. In particular, how conflict imposes economic costs on the population and how people react to conflict. Topics include the correlates of war; the economic legacies of conflict on human capital, local institutions, households’ income, and firma performance; and the causes and impacts of forced displacement.

Instructor(s) from Econ Site: Gerard Padro
Instructor Name from WEN: Gerard Padro
Meeting Pattern (deprecated): Th 9.25-11.15
Term Code: 202101
Category from Feed: YCSO
History
Political Economy

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/undergraduate/courses/449/202101-0