This class provides an introduction to the theory of political decision-making. Both classic results and more recently developed models are presented. After completing the course, students are prepared to write a senior essay on topics related to political economy.

Prerequisites: ECON 115 or equivalent; ECON 121. Elements of basic calculus (derivatives, optimization problems) and prior knowledge of basic game theory is suggested.

Semester offered: Not offered
Undergrad Course Category: Political Economy

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/courses/econ-415a-political-economy