The aim of this course is to analyze the ways that space affects economic behavior. The course develops the required quantitative techniques to analyze detailed spatial information on economic activity and pairs them with simple models that determine how economic activity is allocated across space.

Prerequisites: Math 118 or 120 or instructor’s consent.

Semester offered: Spring

Undergrad Course Category: Development
Methodology
Public

Course Description: Course Description