Econ 500a. General Economic Theory: Microeconomics

Day / time: Monday/Wednesday, 9:00-10:20
Course Type: Graduate
Course term: Fall
Year: 2018
Instructor(s): John Geanakoplos
Larry Samuelson
Eduardo Davila
Location: 77 Prospect St. Rm. A002

The topics are consumer and firm behavior, decision making under uncertainty, competitive, oligopolistic, and monopolistic markets, general equilibrium theory and its extension to equilibria involving uncertainty and time, and overlapping generations model.

Semester offered: Fall

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/courses/econ-500a-general-economic-theory-microeconomics