This course focuses on theoretical and empirical research in international trade policy, and more specifically on three topics: (i) welfare analysis of trade policy; (ii) the political economy of trade policy; and (iii) international trade agreements. Students will be expected to present recent papers in class and actively participate in discussion. The prerequisites are the first-year Ph.D. courses in microeconomics, or by instructor approval.

Semester offered: Spring

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/courses/econ-794b-international-trade-policy