Econ 170a. Health Economics and Public Policy

Day / time: T/Th 2:30 - 3:45 pm
Course Type: Undergraduate
Course term: Fall
Instructor(s): Howard Forman

Application of economic principles to the study of the U.S. health care system. Emphasis on basic principles about the structure of the U.S. system, current problems, proposed solutions, and the context of health policy making and politics.

After introductory microeconomics. May not be taken after Econ <467>.

Semester offered: Fall
Undergrad Course Category: Health
Public
Prerequisite List: Only intro micro as prerequisite

Source URL: https://economics.yale.edu/courses/econ-170a-health-economics-and-public-policy